The Chicago School of Professional Psychology
Notice of Non-Discrimination

The Chicago School of Professional Psychology (TCSPP) acknowledges its ethical and statutory responsibility to afford equal treatment and equal opportunity to all persons and thus complies with all applicable laws and directives regarding non-discrimination and equality of opportunity.

As required by Title VI, Title IX, Section 504 and all other applicable federal and state laws, TCSPP does not discriminate and prohibits discrimination and harassment against its employees, students, and applicants based on race, ethnicity, color, sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, genetic information, religion, creed, age (40 years or older), national origin or ancestry, sexual orientation, physical or mental disability, marital status, parental status, pregnancy, military or veteran status, political activities/affiliations, or other impermissible reason in its programs and activities.

TCSPP does not discriminate on the basis of any of those protected categories listed above in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, and other school-administered programs. TCSPP bars retaliation against an employee, student, or applicant who files a complaint of discrimination.

Questions, reports, and additional concerns related to sex discrimination and Title IX should be directed to:
